DEATHS FROM STEEL RIOTS MAY TOTAL SCORE

AMERICAN FLIES AT EXPRESS SPEED

Glenn Curtiss Astounds Rheims by Remarkable Aeroplane Feat Establishing New Record.

SOME UNHEARLED SIGHTS SEEN

By Associated Press.

RHEIMS, France, Aug. 23.—Glenn Curtiss, the American aviator, and Paulhan, of France, divided honors on the second day of aviation week. The former in a thrilling flight just before dusk lowered the course record, making six miles in five minutes and 35 seconds. Only a few minutes before Bleriot had clipped 16 seconds off Lefevre's record. The American spectators had given up hope of seeing their favorite take the field, when the crop arose, "American starting."

Curtiss' machine ran along a hundred yards then rising lightly shot by the tribunes with the speed of the wind with its wings level as an eagle's.

Under the mistaken impression that this line was closer the aviator slowed down before the finish or he would have made even better time.

Then perceiving his error he rose again and crossed the finish line. Even then he was greeted by the signal that he had broken the record. Many chance races occurred during Paulhan's record high flight when he went more than 60 meters high.

Bleriot, Lefevre and Lamber, sailing about the course, engaged each other in flying over the course like a flock of giant birds, making a sight unheard of in history.

Sunshine and only a trace of wind made ideal conditions in the second day of aviation week and thousands of spectators were present at the course. Renard in a dirigible was first. A series of impressive evolutions were performed by Bleriot, Lefevre and Latham, who will represent France in the race for the international cup on Saturday. Bleriot and Latham are still favorites with the crowd.

Relatives of the deceased begged in vain for permission to allow the funeral services to go on to completion but the undertaker and attorney decline to be moved by tears and consequently the funeral had to be suddenly terminated. Conflict Waged All Through the Night. Women Fought Like Tigresses Along With Men.

VIGOROUS MEASURES TAKEN

By Associated Press.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Aug. 23.—The death list of last night's riot was brought up to seven by the death of one of the injured strikers tonight. Twelve strikers and officers are mortally wounded. Thirty state troopers arrived tonight to reinforce the constabulary at McKees Rocks.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Aug. 23.—With seven dead and at least a dozen more fatally injured as a result of last night's bloody riots, a comparative calm came over the strike situation today. There were a few demonstrations tonight but they were speedily squelched.

Three columns of smoke from the chimneys of the Pressed Steel Car plant tonight make the strikers realize for the first time that the company can do without them and operate despite all efforts to scare imported men.

The strikers realize also that the reinforced mounted police are too much for them. Yet all day the constabulary were subjected to abuse and taunts from windows and doors.

In retaliation every strike sympathizer who left a doorway was searched and besides being searched for weapons, suspects were examined and if they bore marks of a clubbing from last night's battle they were promptly arrested.

Twenty-five were thus taken into custody before night fall. Those who resisted were manacled and dragged through the streets to the plant entrance.
